

YWCA Clinton Empowerment Center and Renaissance Resale Boutique have teamed up to empower women on their journey to success, one outfit at a time.

PurSuits believes every woman deserves to step into her job interview, new position or career with confidence. We provide professional attire and personalized styling, helping her look and feel her best, so she can make a powerful first impression. PurSuits is more than just clothing; it's about empowering women with the support they need to shine.

To make a clothing donation:

- Please make sure to mention that you'd like to use to code 5000P for the PurSuits program.
- Please call 563-242-0958 to schedule an appointment.
- Please bring in 20-25 in-season, current fashion items at a time. (Items purchased in the last 2 years.)
- Clothing donations must have brand and size tags.
- Donated clothing must be clean and free of stains, odors, rips and pet hair.)
- Items should be neatly folded and ready to display.
- When the item sells, the dollar amount of the item sold will be put into a "PurSuits" fund that allows those in need to shop for professional attire.
- This fund is only used by clients directly referred through YWCA Clinton's Empowerment Center.

How donating works:

- You must be 18 or older to consign.
- We strive to maintain the status of a high-end resale shop. Please note that we will not be accepting donations of the following brands: LuLaRoe, Time and Tru, No Boundaries, Terra and Sky, Avia, and Athletic Works.
- Items will be marked at full price for the first 30 days, then items will be marked down 25% for the next two weeks. The last two weeks of consignment the items will be marked 50% off. If items have not sold in the 60 days of consignment, they will not be returned to the donor, but can be donated to a variety of local non-profits organizations.
- When/If the item sells, the dollar amount of the item sold will be put into a "PurSuits" fund that allows those in need to shop for professional attire.
